Monthly Commentary

Continuing war in the Ukraine and soaring energy prices is keeping downward pressure on US stocks. In March, the Granahan US Focused Growth Fund slightly underperformed with a return of 0.26% vs the Russell 2000 Growth index that was flat at 0.46%. Industrial stocks were the most challenging to performance this quarter as were financials and consumer discretionary stocks. On the positive side of the ledger was healthcare, technology, real estate, consumer staples and energy. Our underweight in healthcare offset some of the strong stock selection. The consequences of the ongoing pandemic persist by way of supply chain disruptions, capacity constraints, surging inflation, and labor shortages. Possibly one of the largest negatives today is the Ukrainian war. We've seen the short-term impact on oil supplies and pricing, but we can't predict the longer-term implications. We remain patient, strategic growth investors focused on our process with the goal of providing long term outperformance for our clients.
