Monthly Commentary

Earnings misses from Q2 reports disproportionately hurt performance versus gains in stocks that beat earnings estimates. The Russell 2000 Growth Index gave up -5.2% in August and the Granahan US Focused Growth UCITS Fund gave up -8.6%. Our over-weighted Technology sector underperformed the Index accounting for half of the negative comparison. Equally weighted Consumer Discretionary was also a negative due to stock selection. Both Energy and Industrials are underweight and stock selection detracted as well. Health Care and Real Estate was where stock selection worked. While there are macro headwinds to growth broadly, the companies in the portfolio are ones we believe can sustain strong secular growth. The contraction in multiples has left expected returns at levels we believe are attractive. We are not counting on multiple expansion to drive returns going forward.

The Russell 2000® Growth Index measures the performance of the small cap growth segment of the US equity universe. It includes those Russell 2000® companies with higher price-to-value ratios and higher forecasted growth values.
